RESPONSE TO SAFEGUARDING CHILDREN and VULNERABLE ADULTS CONCERNS

SAC Safeguarding Lead (SL) 2019: Dan Corren

Should any worker or participant/camper at Sacred Arts Camp become aware of information indicating harm (or risk of harm) to a child or a vulnerable adult, including when an adult or child discloses something of concern, they have a duty to take appropriate action without delay, as any delay could increase the risk of harm to the child or a vulnerable adult.

Any worker or camper attending Sacred Arts Camp who becomes aware of safeguarding concerns should immediately discuss their concerns with the SAC Safeguarding Lead.

If the Safeguarding Lead is unavailable a SAC worker should discuss the concern with a member of the Holding Group, Area Coordinator or Team Lead without delay. Campers should approach a member of the Holding Group when the SL is not available.

When a HG member, AC or TL has been approached for advice, regardless of whether there is doubt or uncertainty whether a concern raised is legitimate, they should seek advice from the SAC Safeguarding Lead at the soonest opportunity.

Where a Holding Group member has been approached regarding a Safeguarding concern they will, in most circumstances, direct the person concerned to discuss the concerns with the Safeguarding Lead before any further action is taken, supporting the individual as required.

Following a safeguarding disclosure or incident the SAC Safeguarding Lead will discuss the circumstances with one or more of the Holding Group to confirm that appropriate action has been taken or decide what action is required.

The Safeguarding Lead, in consultation with the HG, will make any decision based on the following considerations;

- Whether the incident is covered within existing guidelines and liaise/advise people concerned and Holding Group as necessary
- If an element of risk has been identified and needs to be addressed more formally, in which case Holding Group will be advised as soon as possible and next steps agreed as a matter of urgency
- Whether the concern indicates a need to amend/add to best practice already included in the Safeguarding Policy and liaise/advise on a proposal to the Holding Group as necessary

Should the incident raise serious concerns the SAC Safeguarding Lead and/or a member of the HG will contact the local police (or in exceptional circumstances Children’s Services) without delay to report the incident and to seek further advice.

Sacred Arts Camp will keep a secure record of concerns raised, where they have been reasonably confirmed as legitimate, to maintain an overview of safeguarding concerns and responsibilities during SAC. The SAC HG may be informed by this information when taking subsequent decisions or actions to reduce future risks at SAC.

ESCALATION OF CONCERNS

Any SAC worker or camper who has raised a concern about safeguarding and believes that their concerns have not been addressed appropriately may use one of the following mechanisms:

1. Discuss with an alternative member of the Holding Group
2. Discuss with the Camp Advisor
3. Contact the police directly for advice
